Award Winning JEWELLERY

This jewellery is inspired from Mughal art of setting precious stone like diamond, emerald and other gemstone which is set in 18kt gold. Bedded art in India is 5000 years old. The excavated carried out there came out with finished and unfinished bead from the sites. The beauty of the jewellery pieces lies much deeper and considered a blend of spiritual and cultural essence for the most auspicious and beautiful occasion of women's life.

Navratna jewellery is a piece of jewellery that consists of nine special stones/gems. It is said that there are cosmic energies aligned with each of these nine gems. This intricate, handcrafted jewellery is made up of 18kt gold and embedded with nine gems, diamond and diamond polki. The green emerald in this necklace enhances its beauty. This artefact's involving 100 of man-hours, exhibiting an extravagance of sophistication.

Diamond are girl's best friend, but it is Polki, the uncut diamond that is taking its place with a storm. It is the historical enchantment of the stone that gives the jewellery a royal touch. This 18kt gold necklace was made in the inherited style. The element offered by this form of jewellery are passed down the ages and possess a strong Indian flavour.

A 7 layers set which relate to 7 phere in Hindu wedding. Two center lines of heart shaped denotes love and affection. The glamour of multi-layered diamond working in harmony. This necklace is designed to be worn and admired. This exquisite love inspired necklace, is a handcrafted from different shape of diamond and composed of 18kt yellow gold. It is a necklace for forever
